FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT. There is so little to talk about up here, and so many restrictions on free conversation on any topic, that the "audience" still forms one of the stable subjects. I find a curious divorsity o opinion on the merits of the reception accorded to the Foreign Ministers, and it looks very like as though the diplomatic body had been divided on the question but coerced into unanimity by A letter was read from Dr. Cantlie to the the fear of isolation and the wrath of Home effect that his bacteriological laboratory, which Governments. Thus the German Legation and those that follow its lead seem bent on glorifying the recent ceremony as the finest thing ever Dr. Cantlie said that he had written this done, and a grand step towards good relations.
